OFFICIAL GAZETTE NO 140-149 OF 27 MAY 2016

Law of the Republic of Moldova No 25 dated 4 March 2016 on the application of international restrictive measures

International restrictive measures applied by the Republic of Moldova are aimed at establishing and maintaining peace and international security, adhering to human rights and fundamental freedoms, preventing and combating terrorism, developing and consolidating democracy and the rule of law in accordance with the principles of the United Nations Charter, international law and obligations assumed by the Republic of Moldova towards international community.

According to the Law, the Republic of Moldova will be able to apply, inter alia, the following international restrictive measures:

- a) total or partial suspension of economic relations;
- b) freezing of funds or economic resources;
- c) restrictions on import, export, transit, services, transport and communications;
- d) over flight restrictions;
- e) interdiction of entering and transiting the territory of Moldova applied to foreign citizens or stateless people.

The Law amends and supplements, inter alia, the Law on advertising, Audiovisual Code and Labor Code.

The main amendments refer to the following:

- Introducing the concept of "sexist advertising" and ban such advertising;
- Introducing a new type of leave, namely paternity leave. Pater nity leave will be granted under the terms of the Labor Code to ensure effective participation of the father in caring for the newborn child. Newborn child father will be entitled to a paternity leave of 14 calendar days. Paternity leave will be granted upon application in written form within the first 56 days after
